Course content: This is an introductory course in macroeconomics, the study of the economy as a whole. Some of the issues covered include analysis of national income and output, economic growth, inflation, employment, banking and the financial sector, monetary and fiscal policy, and international trade and finance.

Course format: The course will primarily consist of lectures, but may also include discussion groups, videos, and other activities. Class attendance is important to keep up with the material that is being presented and is counted towards your grade. Moreover, material that is not covered in the text is often introduced/discussed in class, and the student is responsible for knowing this material. Note taking is strongly advised. Asking questions in class is encouraged.

Required text: Principles of Macroeconomics, Karl E. Case and Ray C. Fair, 7th edition. Additional readings may be assigned throughout the course. In addition, to complete certain assignments and obtain additional readings, you will be required to register for an account with Aplia at <http://econ.aplia.com>.

To register for Aplia:

1. Connect to <http://econ.aplia.com>.
2. Complete the Configuration Test. You must have JavaScript and Flash 5 to use the site. If you don't, the configuration test will tell you and instructions will follow.
3. Return to the Sign In page and click "Register here."
4. You will be prompted to enter your e-mail address and select a password.
5. You will then be asked to enter your course key: 6E9F-46GL-2YYP
6. You only need to register once. After the registration process is complete, you will not need to enter the course key again.
7. Before entering your course, you will be prompted for payment (fee = $21). There is a 21-day grace period for this course. If your payment has not been received by the end of this period (09-22-04), you will not be able to access the site until Aplia receives your payment. Please note that you will need to register at least one hour prior to completing any assignments.

Grading: Your final grade for the class will be based on your scores from one midterm exam, a final exam, in-class and homework assignments, and class attendance/participation as follows:

Midterm exam.....	30%
Final exam.....	40%
Assignments .....	20%
Class attendance & participation.....	10% (it is the student's responsibility to confirm attendance with the instructor each day and to turn in assignments on time; no late assignments will be accepted )

Exams will consist of multiple choice questions, true/false questions, short answer questions, and problem solving. The final exam is comprehensive, i.e., it will cover the topics covered in the entire semester, and the exam must be taken on the day it is scheduled for that particular class. Students may only take a make-up exam if there is a compelling explanation and if the instructor is notified before the scheduled exam. IMPORTANT! Make-up exams will be more of an essay-type exam (rather than multiple choice and T/F).

The final grade will be determined on a standard curve; that is, 90% and above is an "A", 80% and above is a "B", 70% and above is a "C", 60% and above is a "D", and so on.

This course may be taken on a Credit/No Credit basis. (A minimum equivalent grade of C is required for a credit.) However, you must notify me in writing by the end of February if you wish to do so.

Drop policy: It is the student's responsibility to drop the class. All students who are listed on the official roster at the end of the course must be issued a grade. If, for some reason, you need to drop the class, you must do so officially through the office of Admissions & Records.
